

The Silver Dollar

A Treasury Dept. Historical Review

THE silver dollar, not as we know it today, but as its progenitor, came prominently to the fore in the days of the American Revolution.

The dollar, or "thaler" (which did not originate with the Spaniards), is short for the "Joachimsthaler" of Joachimsthal, a mining town in the Joachim's Valley in Bohemia, where the coins were first struck in the sixteenth century.

On the second day of the Second Continental Congress, May 11, 1775, Mr. John Hancock of Massachusetts placed before that body a plan to raise funds for support of our forces in the fight for freedom, involving the use of Spanish milled silver dollars for payments of notes to be issued by the Congress.

The Journal of the Continental Congress on June 22, 1775, records a "resolve" that a sum not exceeding two millions of Spanish milled dollars be emitted by the Congress in bills of credit for the defense of America.

At the time there were many different kinds of colonial shillings in circulation, all with different values in terms of the English shilling. However, the Spanish silver dollar, which came in by trade across the frontier from Louisiana, which Spain later ceded to France, was the principal coin of commerce. It contained 374 $\frac{7}{8}$ grains of silver.

A committee of seven was appointed by the Continental Congress on April 19, 1776 to examine and ascertain the value of the species of gold and silver coins then current in the colonies and to determine the proportions "they ought to bear to Spanish milled dollars." This committee filed such a report on September 2, 1776. Included in the report are references to such denominations as English and French guineas, Johannes and half Johannes, Spanish and French pistole, doubloons, English and French crowns, English shillings, and the then popular Spanish milled dollars, all of which served as a medium of exchange in the colonies.

Thomas Jefferson recommended on September 2, 1776, to the Continental Congress, that the United States adopt the silver "Spanish Milled Dollar" called "Pillar Pieces of Eight", as our monetary unit of value, since daily trade was transacted in that coin.

In his notes on the subject, Thomas Jefferson expressed the opinion that in fixing the unit of money the following circumstances were of principal importance:

1. That it be of a convenient size to be applied as a measure to the common money transactions of life.

2. That its parts and multiples be in easy proportion to each other so as to facilitate the Money Arithmetic.

3. That the Unit and its parts or divisions be so nearly of the value of some of the known coins so that they may be of easy adoption for the people. Mr. Jefferson concluded the Spanish dollar seemed to fulfill all these conditions.

The Superintendent of Finance in the Continental Congress, Robert Morris, wrote in 1777: "The various coins which have circulated in America have undergone different changes in their value, so that there is hardly any which can be considered as a general standard, unless it be Spanish dollars. These pass in Georgia at five shillings, in North Carolina and New York at eight shillings, in Virginia and the four Eastern States at six shillings, and in all the other States except South Carolina at seven shillings and sixpence, and in South Carolina at thirty-two shillings and sixpence."

The dollar was established as the ideal money unit of the United States of America by the Continental Congress, on July 6, 1785. On the eighth of August 1786 it was enacted that the standard for coinage of gold and of silver should be eleven parts fine and one part alloy, and that the money unit or dollar should contain 375-64/100 grains of fine silver.

The Mint Act of April 2, 1792:

1. Authorized coinage of the silver dollar (of the value of Spanish milled dollar) against the deposit of silver and fixed its weight at 371-4/16 grains of pure silver or 416 grains of standard silver;

2. fixed the standard for silver coins as 1485/1664 (.8924) fine;

3. fixed the coinage ratio of gold and silver as 1 to 15;

4. provided for free coinage; and

5. declared silver dollars (and all other coins authorized) lawful tender. The Act of 1792, in effect, reduced the silver content 1-1/7 percent from the dollar established in 1786.

Coinage of silver dollars commenced in 1794. In his report of October 28, 1794 to the Congress, the first Director of the Mint, David Rittenhouse, reported "A beginning has been made in coining the precious metals — A large parcel of blank dollars is ready for coining, waiting for a more powerful press to be finished, in order to complete them for currency."

From 1794 until 1805, the Mint at Philadelphia produced 1,439,517 silver dollars. During this period, many of these coins were exported to Mexico and the West Indies where they found acceptance in place of Spanish milled dollars. This left the worn and clipped Spanish coins as the chief circulating medium in the United States.

While Secretary of State, Madison wrote Mint Director Robert Patterson on May 1, 1806:

"In consequence of a report from the director of the Bank of the United States that considerable purchases have been made of dollars coined at the Mint for the purpose of exporting them, and as it is probable further purchases and exportations will be made, the President (Jefferson) directs that all the silver to be coined at the Mint shall be of small denominations, so that the largest piece shall not exceed a half a dollar."

No more silver dollars were minted until 1836, thirty years later, and then only 1000 of them were issued from the Mints, and during this interim period, as indicated, the largest denomination of silver coins issued from the Mint were half dollars.

The Act of January 18, 1837, which consolidated Mint law up to that date, fixed the standard fineness as 0.900 for silver coins and changed the weight of the silver dollar to 412.5 grains. This is the coin we have today. Under this act, 6,590,721 silver dollars were coined, commencing in 1839 and continuing without interruption (except for the year 1858) until 1873.

Coinage of the silver dollar was discontinued by reason of the Act of February 12, 1873, which omitted the silver dollar from the list of coins authorized to be struck by the Mint. When the standard silver dollar was dropped, Congress made provision for a trade dollar.

The trade dollar was exported largely to the Orient where it competed in circulation with the Mexican peso. This coin was 420 grains in weight, seven and one half grains heavier than the standard weight of the regular silver dollar. Though trade dollars continued to be struck for a period of

Double the Value of Silver Coins

The Groseclose and Graham Proposals Revisited

By: Christian F. Verbeke

Last week our page one story gave part of the detail and background of the Groseclose proposal which would use the doubling of the price of silver as an escape from the current coin shortage and silver crisis. This week, we continue with the remainder of the factors influencing the proposal and the reasons for its introduction.

Double revaluation is the equivalent of halving the silver content of present silver coins. Since the latter proposal, having the support of a leading refiner, is not deemed a threat to the dollar then neither is the Groseclose plan.

It will eventually, favorably effect exploration for new mines, increase volume in profitable mines now in production as it will permit mining of marginal ores, and it will permit reopening of now-closed marginal mines that have low grade ore reserves.

Any misconceived psychological confusion or fears of promotion of inflation would only require Treasury explanation just as would cutting the present silver content in half. It had to explain the minting of coins in 1965 with a 1964 date.

11. A LAW REQUIRING A BOGUS DATE on our coinage, which served only to accelerate hoarding of older dated coins and to point up the basic bargain of all silver coins, must have arisen from major errors in planning. Are these errors being continued? Yes. Who made them? The Treasury.

Blaming piggy bankers, the thrifty, the age-old numismatic fans, and speculators (all are being blamed) is hardly justifiable. The blame should be directed at the ill-advised programs that created the speculators' opportunities. Who were the perpetrators of these programs? Let us study and investigate their operations and why they have recommended them, and — more informatively — why they are wrong.

12. ALL FLAWS IN THIS SIMPLE PLAN of restating the value of our subsidiary silver coins at double (or $2.76) in purchasing power are PURELY PSYCHOLOGICAL. The dime becomes 20c, and quarter 50c, the half one dollar. There are no decimal markings on our subsidiary silver coins. NO NEW MARKINGS would be required (might be optional) for the minting of additional silver coins, since all new coins will be identical with the old.

The 50c piece revalued to one dollar will serve several useful purposes: 1) Being lighter than the old silver dollars, it will circulate much more freely and widely. Previously the silver dollar circulated only in certain Western areas. 2) It will relieve our gold strain by requiring less Federal Reserve Notes with 25% gold backing, actually serving as a metal one dollar silver certificate. 3) It will save money in minting Federal Reserve Notes, plus interest on the 75% bonds backing Federal Reserve Notes.

13. VENDING MACHINE and telephone coin problems are practically solved by the double dime. For meters and telephones, two nickels will do for 10c telephone calls, a nickel and a dime will serve for 25c. The same number of coins will do twice the vending machine business as previously. Coin replacement will be cut in half. Certainly cupro-nickel may bring major problems to the vending industry — not only change-over, but a period with too few coins, shin plasters and, worst of all, counterfeit slugs.

A cupro-nickel coin is less than a penny's worth of material in the form of a well-designed slug. They could be freely made. Most meter problems will be minimized under revaluation — no counterfeiting will be the most important one solved. Some remarking of coin receptor slots must be done. This can be done cheaply and quickly. With no new coins of any kind required, the choice of cupro-nickel or 50% new silver coins becomes merely an academic stunt, when revaluation can draw on say 1.5 billion ounces of silver already minted and ready for dehoarding. How can vending or banking or merchants or producers support any program but revaluation?

14. OUR NEIGHBORS' MINING industries would be stimulated tremendously and hence help solve our long term growth needs in silver. Who can say what production stimulation $2.00 per ounce silver would bring? From the peak during World War II, we sold a net balance of over 1.3 billion ounces from our free stockpile through November 1961. Since then we have dumped more than another 1/2 billion, soon to be 3/4 billion, plus. Had this not been dumped but held as a strategic cold war weapon, it would have required approximately that amount to be mined. It would have taken higher prices to get it out of various places, but it would certainly have stimulated our neighbors' mining industries, and also our own. We can not ignore the law of supply and demand.

Mexico, the leading world producer, has contracted much of her excess production to Western Europe. Canadian and Japanese industrial and coinage uses are increasing. Only Peru can be considered a future excess source of supply. Must we rely on Peru for our future missile silver supply as we do now on Malaysia and Bolivia for our tin? The price must be marked up substantially to stimulate production by friendly nations — not dumped any longer to hold price, and production, down.

15. THE PLAN STOPS FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS FROM BUYING the last of our silver at $1.29 or $1.38 and making the large seigniorage the U. S. should be making. The export of our dwindling stockpile to unknown foreign governments is a NATIONAL SCANDAL. In the meantime it continues while our Treasury and users recommend we go to cupro-nickel. Our exports were over 57 (est.) million ounces in the first ten months of 1964. This should supply our annual coinage needs if it were not for hoarding. Under revaluation, hoarding would stop.

16. IT STOPS THE SELECT FEW SILVER USER corporations from buying silver under the market as they did at 90 1/2 cents and are now doing at $1.29. The higher price of a free market will cut non-essential and semi-luxury demand. Stainless steel will often do. Why put more silver in knives and forks and take it out of coins? These bargain withdrawals are a scandal that should be investigated to the fullest. Over two billion ounces have been used to keep the market price in check. In spite of it, we are running out of silver.

What a bonanza this has been to the members of the Silver Users Assn. How can our Treasury sanction such programs with worse coming up? Seven big corporations withdrew 92% of the silver from the Treasury before the free silver stockpile ran out in 1961. Who is withdrawing the silver from the Treasury right now? Is no one in Congress interested? Is Congress going to permit it to continue until we have to use copper alloy slugs for coins?

17. IS THE CONGRESS GOING TO take back the responsibility for our monetary affairs after this Treasury fiasco, or aren't they? It is that simple. Congress has been misinformed, but it is still responsible. The Treasury's further indicated advice, "sponsoring" cupro-nickel, nickel, will be worse because it is hasty, against historical tradition, deep rooted mass concepts, and natural laws. History has proven Gresham's Law infallible (inferior money chases out stronger money).

REVALUATION will put our coinage affairs back into the hand of Congress where they belong, and take them out of the confused Treasury's hands whose programs are incompatible with all economic laws. The Treasury seems to want cupro-nickel and low silver prices. Why? Certainly they have been influenced by the Silver Users Assn. in recent years. Congress should want silver contained and continued in our coinage as it has been for 172 years, for world prestige reasons. Revaluation will effect that simply and quickly, and return our good silver coins from hoarding, immediately.

18. REVALUATION THWARTS COUNTERFEITING almost 100%. Cupro-nickel, on the other hand, may make it wide-spread. Less than a penny's worth of material will make a slug quarter or half dollar. Slugs will work, but the material cost, the true ring, appearance, and other fine qualities of good silver effectively block counterfeiting.

COUNTERFEITING will become a critical problem for the vending industry, which is so important in the U. S. Our present vending-industry nation is far ahead of and not comparable with any country geared to copper alloy coins.

19. PREVAILING PROGRAMS HAVE BROUGHT US TO NEAR DISASTER. The disaster will be complete if present policies continue to be followed, and are not changed radically, to make them practical. Treasury programs have been ill-advised. Some of its testimony before Congressional banking and currency committees has proven ill informed. I mention Mr. Dillion's 15-year supply forecast during the 1963 legislation testimony . . . Mr. Martin's mere 35 million gold strain annually . . . Mr. Wallace's continued forecast for coin relief within several months, for almost two years, and that the TREASURY WOULD SOON FLOOD THE COUNTRY WITH KENNEDY HALVES. And there is more . . . a matter of Congressional record with ease of verification. Why were the 870 million 1942-to-1945 silver content nickels worth seven cents each not called in? This error cost the Treasury millions. It should make any further Treasury recommendations suspect by the responsible committees in both chambers of Congress.

The following shows the declining stocks of Treasury Silver (Troy Ounces): 1964 (in000') Reduction July 31 1,408,251; Aug. 31 1,383,510, 24.7 million; Sept. 30 1,341,799, 4.1 million. Oct. 30 1,275,326, 66.4 million; Nov. 30 1,230,784, 44.4 million.

There is also 64 million ounces of radio-active silver at Oak Ridge to be deducted from the above until it is rehabilitated at considerable cost.

In the quarter ended November, 1964, 152 million ounces were withdrawn from the Treasury or at a rate of 600 million per year. If we need a minimum of 600 million for strategic defense, why do we hear of 2 to 3 years supply? The withdrawal is accelerating so fast we may not even have one year's supply.

The final run is already under-

U.S. GOLD ON THE MOVE YOU NEED TO BUY GOLD

Gold has always been one of the best buys in the numismatic field. Today more than ever gold is one of your best buys. It not only serves as a hedge against inflation but also assures the buyer a just return on his purchase. Take a close look at the bills to come before congress regarding the reduction of gold backing the greenback. Examine closely the international monetary situation. Don't you need to buy a little gold? If you need larger lots than listed below please call.

way and a decision must be made soon. Exciting days are ahead. Shall we see temporary paper script for replacement of hoarded metal currency, or will businesses depending on coins come to a near halt?

Congress cannot ignore considering the advantages of the double revaluation for dimes, quarters and halves in its early required efforts to find a solution to the silver and coinage mess, a solution that will be in the best interest of the public and will not disrupt the many channels of daily business largely dependent on the present dimes, quarters and halves. Then in the eyes of both the Free and Iron Curtain Worlds we shall still have silver coins of prestige.

The Act also directed the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase each month, at the market price thereof, not less than $2,000,000 nor more than $4,000,000 worth of silver bullion and to coin the bullion so purchased into standard silver dollars. Under this Act, 291,272,018.56 fine ounces of silver were purchased, at a cost of $308,279,260.71, and 378,166,793 standard silver dollars were coined.

Purchases under the Bland Allison Act of 1878 were continued until passage of the Sherman Act of July 14, 1890.

The Sherman Act of 1890 repealed the provisions of the Act of February 28, 1878, which required the monthly purchase and coinage of silver bullion, and directed purchase of silver, to total 4,500,000 ounces of bullion per month at the market price thereof, not exceeding one dollar for 371.25 grains of pure silver, provided for its coinage into standard silver dollars, and authorized the issue of Treasury

June 13, 1898.)

The Acts of March 3, 1891 and March 3, 1887 authorized coinage from trade dollar bullion and trade dollars then in the Treasury. Under these Acts, 5,078,472 standard silver dollars were coined.

The Act of November 1, 1893 repealed the purchasing clause of the Act of July 14, 1890.

The Act of June 13, 1898, directed coinage into standard silver dollars of all the remaining bullion in the Treasury purchased under the Act of July 14 1890.

The Act of April 23, 1918, (Pittman Act) authorized the conversion of not exceeding 350,000,000 standard silver dollars into bullion and its sale, or use for subsidiary silver coinage, and directed purchase of domestic silver for recoinage of a like number of dollars. Under this Act, 270,232,722 standard silver dollars were converted into bullion (259,121,554 for sale to Great Britain at $1.00 per fine ounce, plus mint charges and 11,111,168 for subsidiary silver coinage), the equivalent of about 209,000,000 fine ounces of silver. Between 1920 and 1933, under the Act, the same quantity of silver was purchased from the output of American mines, at a fixed price of $1 per ounce, from which 270,232,722 standard silver dollars were recoined.

Under the Thomas Amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, approved May 12, 1933, the President was authorized for a period of five months to accept silver on war-debt account, at a maximum price of fifty cents an ounce, the total amount accepted not to exceed a value of $200 million. Silver certificates were to be

Rare 1964 Dime Variety

YOU'RE STARING at the FUTURE!

Remember the 1960 small dates and the 1955 double shift cent, they sold for less than the now popular Pointed Tail 9 dimes. Look at what they sell for now; $400 for a roll of 1960-P small date and $300 for one 1955 shift.

Now, while they're young and cheap, the Rare 1964 Pointed tail 9 Dimes BU sets in holder, 1964-P pointed tail 9 and 1964-P blunt tail 9, only $2.00 a set. Order 3 sets for $5.00.

The 1964-D pointed tail 9 and 1964-D blunt tail 9, BU sets in holder, only $1.00 a set. Order 3 sets for $2.50.

We feel the Pointed tail 9 dimes to be rare, less than 2,000,000 mixed with over 400,000,000 and they're still making more Blunts!

The 1964 Proof sets also have this popular variety, so it's no fluke or one die variety. Remember, the small date 1960 exists in P-D mintage and the proof sets. The pointed tail 9 also exists in P-D and 1964 proof sets! The combination and pattern is here, get on the ground floor!

We have a good retail coin trade here, so if you have any worth while items to trade for my Pointed tail 9 dimes, please make trade offers.

1965 B. U. CANADIAN COINAGE

Canadian coinage for 1965 promises to be the best yet. The obverse of all coins has been changed and now portrays a more mature image of Queen Elizabeth. We have seen Canadian coinage become scarce and prices rise in the years 1963 and 1964. We suggest that you order now while our prices are low. Again we offer our Layway Plan for easy financing.

WHY ORDER FROM THE DOWDS?

As the largest Canadian dealers in the States, we offer you a stock that is located in the States. When you order from us, there is no prolonged period of waiting for your merchandise to clear Customs, therefore no Customs fees. Also you do not have to take the risk of having your mint sealed bag opened at the borders.

In the long run it is cheaper and safer to become another one of the Dowds' satisfied clients.

Canadians please note our Canadian address. When shipping to our Canadian customers, we ship either Parcel Post or Rail Express from Montreal, again avoiding shipping between the countries.

Cashdan's Coin Comments

Eliot J. Cashdan

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19 — Eliot Cashdan, Fort Worth coin dealer, Tuesday categorically denied charges that he had been involved in an alleged scheme to defraud coin collectors. Cashdan, 42, accused of fraud along with three prominent Mexicans, declared he was innocent. The Mexican trio have made similar declarations.

ALL ARE SLATED to learn from Judge Angel Gamoa Cervera of the Third District Criminal Court Wednesday afternoon whether they will continue to be imprisoned while awaiting trial. He was refused bond. Federal police charge an outfit called Numismatica de Mexico, S. A., made up of Fernando Martinez Caneles, a reputedly wealthy hotel man, and Albert and Victor Misrahi Samanon, art dealers, committed fraud by indicating they planned to sell thousands of proof sets of new Mexican coins, although the government has not approved such issuance.

The police say an article written by Cashdan and published in Pace Magazine in Houston reported that proof sets would become available touched off a flood of thousands of dollars in checks and money orders being sent to Numismatica de Mexico.

Hundreds of the letters were mistakenly delivered to the office of a Mexico City coin collector who informed authorities.

CASHDAN CLAIMS the article was to have been held for release until the Mexican mint had actually approved proof sets, but it was prematurely published in early January with mention made of Numismatica de Mexico.

Cashdan, interviewed in the Lecumberri Preventive Prison in Mexico City said:

"I have no direct connection with Numismatica de Mexico, and I am entirely innocent of any attempt to defraud the public as charged by federal police, who in my opinion, have some agents worse than the Gestapo."

"Obviously, the flood of money that has come to Mexico was precipitated by the premature release of my article."

"If the government now refuses to make the proof sets, it certainly will cause much ill will toward Mexico among U. S. collectors."

"As for Numismatica de Mexico, the aim of its organizers was to publicize Mexico throughout the world by making available proof sets which the firm was assured had been or would be approved by the mint."

"IT SEEMS A shame that prominent Mexican business men working to help their country, and myself, who was trying to assist them, should be imprisoned and charged with fraud."

Cashdan said he had months ago met the Mexican trio and had suggested that it would be advantageous to Mexico if new coin proof sets were issued and sold throughout the world.

As for himself, he said he intended to buy some for sale in the U. S.

Cashdan said he was arrested Thursday at his hotel here by federal police and taken to a station where the three Mexicans were held.

"I was not allowed to talk with any of them, to call for a lawyer, the U. S. counsel or my wife," Cashdan said.

He asserted he was searched that night and held in a cold cell with only a stone bench to sleep on and lacked blankets or any heating.

HE SAID HE was urged on Friday by federal police to make a declaration, and finally did so, proclaiming his innocence, after being assured he could then talk to the U. S. consul.

Subsequently he said he was fingerprinted and photographed and taken to Lecumberri Prison.

If formal, indefinite imprisonment is ordered for Cashdan and the others by the court Wednesday, they can then appeal to the Superior Tribunal of Justice. If it upholds the lower court's imprisonment order, then a trial date would be fixed.

United States Consul Samuel Young, chief of the American embassy's protection and welfare office, visited him in prison Tuesday.

The embassy is investigating all angles of the case with the hope of effecting Cashdan's release.

Space City Averages:

How They Are Obtained

With close to 1,500 separate statistics appearing each week in PACE, a need exists to express this information in graphic form for busy readers.

We are currently charting eight different coin series each week as you see below. These charts are based on Space City Averages, an arbitrarily chosen group of rolls which we feel are representative of the total for that series.

To be included in the Space City Averages rolls are chosen on the basis of three factors: (1) their trading is constant, (2) they are widely held, and (3) they are indicative of the series.

It is obvious infrequently traded items, closely held items and extremes in the series would not serve this purpose.

Each week the statistical staff of PACE prepares these averages from the information obtained on The American Numismatics Exchange transactions.

The amount expressed in the Space City averages is the total market bid prices for the rolls included in the averages. This is a dollar figure and is compared with previous week, month, and year figures for analysis.

The high and low for 1964 is also shown.

MARKET SUMMARY

January 20, 1965

By Russell Brown

IT was early 1964 all over again this week with the keys in cents and nickels rising fast. In fact in the entirety of cents, nickels and dimes there was only one decline. Heavy play centered around the 1955 issues and only silver dollars and quarters were excluded from the general air of prosperity.

Proof sets were running hot spurred by the constant interest in the Canadian and Mexican question. Both U. S. and Canadian late date sets were traded in volume and scored advances. Requests were noted on tape for futures on the Canadian 1965 set and apparently it will come out at $9.00 bid. Due to the disasters which befell those engaged in futures last year few seem inclined to guarantee delivery of the 1965 sets.

With the lull in silver news during the last several weeks, Lincolns and Jeffersons have come to the forefront of the market. The small dates are still running with the P over $400 and the D under way and bid in the $17 range. The 1936-D and 1942-S cents also scored gains during the week.

Most of the Jefferson keys and semi keys were requested this week. The 1939-S seems to have disappeared and the bid is increasing accordingly. The 1950-D and 1938-S are also sharing the prosperity with two digit increases, as are the 1938-D, 1944-S and 1955-P. As a result of this demand, the series scored a solid five per cent increase.

Mercury dimes were quiet but the Roosevelt interest showed some stirring. The 1949-S and 1947-D gained ten and five dollars respectively. The 1955-P and D continued their rise. The P is back over a hundred bid and the upward trend initiated last week by the D is still with us. Only the 1955-S of the 1955's appears unwilling to advance.

Alone in a doldrum all their own are Washington quarters. Only the 1955-D is receiving any play, rising two dollars over the week. Trading in the series is so thin that single requests for issues such as the 1952-S and 1946-D can move the price five dollars with ease. Lack of volume is shown by the fact that only five issues of the 61 presented in PACE showed price change.

Franklin halves were mixed in quiet trading this week. The surplus of bids over sell offers present during the last month showed signs of decrease. The only large gain in the series was recorded by the 1949-S. There were nine advances and four declines.

Morgan dollars were quiet as usual with matching advances and declines. Several dealers seem determined to locate the actual market value of some issues by going on tape selling at "Pace bid." Naturally, the next week, we lower the value of the issue. And sure enough, the dealers, not having sold the issue come back again with a new lower sell price. One begins to wonder just where the market is on some of these rolls.

The Market Opinion

Elsewhere in the paper, you will read about our valued contributor Eliot Cashdan's incarceration in the dungeons of Mexico while trying to assist in the obtaining of Mexican proof sets for U. S. collectors. It is certainly sad that an attempt by a U. S. citizen to spread Mexican culture and, in the process make the Mexican treasury some money should meet with such a result. We hope that Eliot's vacation in the hoosegow will be short lived and that his effort to obtain some of the Mexican sets for our citizenry will meet with success.

It now appears that the market decline on minor coinage is over and a small bull market is forming. Only the silver dollars and quarters are unaffected. Particularly favorable are the signs that the speculative items are moving and these are usually good indications that a general market rise is soon to come.

American Numismatics Exchange Transactions

BU Roll Prices as of Wednesday, January 20, 1965

These bid and asked prices, from the American Numismatic Exchange Inc., do not necessarily represent actual transactions. They are a guide to the range within which these coins could have been sold (indicated by the "bid") or bought (indicated by the "asked") at the time of compilation. Price changes are obtained by comparison of weekly bid prices.

Prices are wholesale quotations compiled from the American Numismatic Exchange teletype system which serves 195 coin dealers across the country.

issued against the silver so received to the total value at which the silver was accepted. The law further provided that the silver so accepted should be coined into standard silver dollars and subsidiary silver coin sufficient, in the opinion of the Secretary of the Treasury to meet any demands for redemption of the silver certificates issued.

A further requirement to mint silver dollars was contained in Presidential proclamation related to the purchase of newly-mined domestic silver, issued on December 21, 1933, calling upon the Mints to coin this denomination, in payment for the silver received under this proclamation.

The quantity of silver dollars minted under the Thomas Amendment and the Proclamation of December 21, 1933 was 7,021,528 pieces.

Section 5 of the Silver Purchase Act of 1934 provides that all of the silver certificates issued thereunder will be redeemable on demand at the Treasury of the United States in standard silver dollars, and gave the Secretary of the Treasury authority to coin them for such redemption. Further, the Proclamation of August 9, 1934, nationalizing silver, provided that the silver so received would be added to the monetary stocks of the United States and coined from time to time into standard silver dollars in such amounts as were required to carry out the provisions of the proclamations. The total quantity of silver dollars minted under these two authorities was 53,029 pieces. The coinage involved took place in 1934 and 1935.

Public Law 88-36, approved June 4, 1963 provides: "Silver certificates shall be exchangeable on demand at the Treasury of the United States for silver dollars, or at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury, at such places as he may designate, for silver bullion at a monetary value equal to the face amount of the certificates."

On March 25, 1964, the Secretary exercised the option authorized by this act, and it is no longer possible to secure silver dollars from the Treasury. However, holders of silver certificates may continue to avail themselves of their legal right to demand an amount of silver precisely equal to the silver content of a standard silver dollar. The certificates may be presented at either the United States Assay Office, 32 Old Slip, New York City, or the United States Assay Office, 155 Hermann Street, San Francisco, California, where they will be redeemed in silver bullion at the monetary value of $1.292929292 an ounce.

Under the procedure which has been established for small exchange transactions, the Assay Office at New York issues small manila envelopes, each valued at $1.00, containing .77+ ounce of fine silver in the form of crystals. Similar exchanges being made at the Assay Office at San Francisco are in the form of pellets or granulations. These exchanges are made only over the counter; neither of the Assay Offices handle these transactions by mail.

For larger redemptions, the Treasury stands ready to exchange bars of silver bullion for silver certificates. The minimum amount obtainable is one bar, which will vary in weight from 1,000 to 1,100 ounces, at $1.292929292 per fine troy ounce, raised to the next highest dollar. Thus, if the exchange were to be for a single bar, and the bar weighed exactly 1,000 ounces, its cost would be $1,293. Additional amounts must be in full bars.

Act June 19, 1934 (sec. 7), Executive proclamation, Aug. 9, 1934 53,029
Total 855,611,127

From 1792 until 1873, when silver dollar coinage was discontinued, coinage of silver dollars was free for the account of the depositor of silver, and the mint price of silver was $1.2929+ per fine ounce. Since the restoration of coinage in 1878, coinage of silver dollars has been for the account of the United States, and the difference between the cost of the silver and the face value of the dollars coined, termed seigniorage, has been covered into the Treasury as a miscellaneous receipt.
